This card has been specially designed for the vision care practitioner to aid in standardized measurements of near point acuity. This card should be held at approximately 16 inches away from the patients face under standard room illumination.

LARGE TYPE

Driving down the road I came across a strange animal, it was a small animal with large teeth and a large flat tail. I pulled my car to the side of the road and stopped. Getting out of my car I carefully approached the creature as he eyed me curiously. Once I got about 10 feet to it I stopped and waited. After a few minutes the creature got bored of me and waddled away.

NEWSPAPER COPY

To make money one must have something to motivate one's self into working. There are many ways of making money, however I have yet to see one that is overly easy and quick. Making money takes work and dedication. Now there are many things that can motivate one's self into making money, like necessity, the greatest motivator. If it is a case of making money or you and your family starving one can usually find some motivation to make money.

Once you have money, money seems to make money. You can invest it and earn interest or you could purchase items to make life cheaper. An example of this would be purchasing a house to avoid paying rent. Another would be purchasing a vehicle to avoid paying taxis or bus fare ,and would also free up time allowing you to work more and make more money.

Some effective ways of making money are getting a job, starting your own business, or renting out your own property (tools, car, computer, land, etc.). Now starting your own business is an exciting idea that a lot of people like, however they seem to jump into it blindly and foolishly.
